

MANY CALIFORNIANS MISTAKENLY BELIEVE A CRIMINAL CONVICTION KEEPS THEM FROM VOTING.

POLITICIANS BET ON THAT FACT TO WIN ELECTIONS.

CAN I VOTE?

If you have a misdemeanor conviction, you can always vote.

In fact, you always keep your right to vote unless you are currently serving a sentence for certain felonies.

The only time you cannot vote in California is if you are currently serving a state or federal prison sentence or you are currently on parole.

Though your right to vote is automatically restored when you complete your parole, you have to fill out a voter registration form to be able to vote.

On Probation?
On Community Supervision?
Off Parole?

IF THE ANSWER IS YES
YOU HAVE THE RIGHT
